New National Viewpoint

Canadian Writers of Fiction Should Portray Scenes Of Our Own Country

Some sound advice was given to Canadian authors recently by John Burroughs, the well known English essayist. While he finds our literature of a surprisingly high average, he deprecates the lack of Canadian localities. He thinks the Canadian writer allows himself to be distracted by London and New York, to the detriment of his own country, when it comes to backgrounds and settings for stories, and that it would be better to portray the Canadian scene and situations.

There is no doubt whatever that Mr. Burroughs has put his hand upon a real need. There are very few novels about Canada and the people of Canada—novels that would convey to people outside Canada a clear idea of the Dominion, its inhabitants, their ideals, their methods, their mentality. Yet that is the sort of novel we need if our fiction is to become national in anything more than the publisher's imprint.

Mr. Burroughs sees a new national viewpoint and new standards of judgment needed for the young writers of this country. Doubtless both will come in time, but the present tendency is rather away from Canada and the national viewpoint than towards such an ideal. Our poets get much nearer to it than our writers of prose.

The lure of the cheap magazine with its false standards of life has proved too strong for a good many Canadian writers, who might have done a good service to Canadian literature had they been able to withstand that lure.

Criticism, such as Mr. Burroughs has offered, is, therefore, all the more to be noted as pungent and appropriate.

The Antidote For Fear

Courage, Confidence and Hope Needed By World Today

The curse of humanity has always been fear.

Fear dates back to the beginning of man.

Fear is the mother of hatred, the instigator of murder, the begetter of wars.

Fear is the enemy of sanity, the spoiler of judgment, the defiler of the soul.

Fear turns day into night and makes men walk in darkness.

Fear is the forerunner of distress, the foe to prosperity, the preserver of poverty.

Fear is the failure of the spirit, the triumph of the primitive over the civilized, the victory of death over life.

As individuals and as a nation we should cast fear from us.

Courage, confidence, hope—these are the antidotes and the world has great need of them today. Fear is the thing that halts progress and creates difficulties, makes people hesitate where courage would see them through.

Tender-handed stroke a nettle, And it stings you for your pains; Grasp it like a man of mettle—And as soft as silk remains.

Canadian Fruit and Honey Given Awards

Excellent Record Was Made At Imperial Fruit Show

Canadian apples and honey made an excellent record at the Imperial Fruit Show, which opened in Manchester, England, October 30.

Word was received by the Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, that in the class open to the British Empire, British Columbia won two second awards, one for dessert, and the other for culinary apples.

The entries included fruit grown in England as well as in Australia, New Zealand and South Africa.

The southern Dominion's fruit had been scored in London early in June.

In the section open to Canadian-grown fruit, British Columbia and Nova Scotia divided honors.

The agent-general's cup for the exhibition gaining the highest number of points was won by J. Lowe, of Oyan, B.C.

For the first time in the history of the Imperial Fruit Show honey was included. In the three sections open to the Dominions and Colonies, Ontario exhibitors won two first awards, while exhibitors from British Columbia won one first, two seconds, and three third awards.

Disagrees With Einstein

Retreating Stars Determine Size Of Universe Opinion Of Dutch Astrologer

The stars, constantly retreating toward the distant rim of the Milky Way, are the factors that determine the size of the universe, says Professor Willem de Sitter, noted Dutch astrologer. He spoke on "the size of the universe" at the Frick Chemical Laboratory of Princeton, New Jersey, University.

The universe is of a definite size and it is finite, Dr. de Sitter declared, but it is continually expanding, because of the retreat of the stars which broadens the limits of the universe.

Dr. de Sitter's exposition is at variance with the theory of Albert Einstein, the German mathematician.

Since static theories had the universe starting at a certain size and increasing to become an infinite. After an initial postulate that the whole of space was first filled homogeneously.

Increased, the professor said, but with no motion.

To this hypothesis Dr. de Sitter compared his own theory of a finite original universe having no matter, only motion.

Its size has constantly increased, the professor said, but it still remains finite—or limitable.

Attacks Current War Stories

Canadian Soldiers Not Moral Weaklings Says Lieut-Colonel Drew

Lieut-Col. George A. Drew, who has on former occasions leaped into the centre of the stage as the defender of Canadians in the Great War.

Soldiers, he declares, are not such moral weaklings as they are pictured in current war stories. There is no doubt that Col. Drew speaks truly, and also that his indignation over the tone of some modern works of "literature" is justified.

Too many writers in their urge for "realism," have laid entirely too much stress on happenings which, though probably genuine, do not truly reflect the life of the soldiers in any comprehensive way.

They have shown only one side of the picture, and in doing so have been guilty of a great injustice. Many of the books will not make pleasant reading for the children and grandchildren of the men who fought, the descendants who have an inalienable right to a righteous and glorious pride in the achievements of their forebears.

He has quickened the high desire. As a blaze with its glamour of ruddy light Transfigures a room once bleak, So the flame of his courage, clear and bright,

Brings the power the timorous seek. He has brought into lives that were drear and cold, Into doubting hearts of youth, A flicker which has solace for young and old,

The flicker of living truth!

A very delightful musical setting has been arranged by Margaret Lindsay, also of Regina, and the song has been dedicated "To those who have fished and fished in the Canadian Northland." Words of the song are as follows:

I've wandered over eastern hills, I've trod the western plain, And revelled in the beauty of the waving golden grain.

But nature holds a nobler gem the lovely Waskesiu. Over hill and dale and winding trail I'm coming back to you.

Thy face reflects the setting sun in many shaded sheen The woodland marks thy limits with a frame of softest green;

Thy waters crouch a lullaby, soft as a Mother's song, That soothes to rest the weary mind, while childhood memories throng.

The flowers deck thy verdant banks, the aspens whisper low, And send a benediction in the silvery "moo-moo" flow.

The northland calls her children home to lovely Waskesiu. Over hill and dale and winding trail I'm coming back to you.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

NOVEMBER 15

PAUL, IN JERUSALEM

Golden Text: "Thou shalt be a witness for Him unto all men of what thou hast seen and heard."—Acts 22: 15.

Lesson: Acts 21:17 to 23:30. Devotional Reading: 2 Corinthians 17-15.

Explanations and Comments

Paul's Reception At Jerusalem, verses 17-19.—The leaders of the Church at Jerusalem received Paul cordially, James was in the company that greeted him, but Peter seems not to have been present.

Paul came to them with a wonderful story of how the gospel message had been received among the Grecian Jews and Gentiles, and with abundant proof of their regard for the Mother Church.

In the collection of contributions they had contributed out of their deep poverty. It is evident that Paul had thought this gathering of contributions from his Gentile churches to be "the crowning act," as Professor Ramsay declares, of his work in the four Gentile provinces of Galatia, Asia, Macedonia, and Achaia.

Yet there is no expression of gratitude on the part of the receivers. The omission is pathetic to one who has followed with intense interest Paul's course and aim.

Apparently the apostles and elders of Jerusalem passed at once to what was uppermost in their own minds. The theological and theoretical overshadowed the practical in this early Christian group as they have done all too often in all the ages since.

A somewhat similar spirit reigned among the representatives of the Church of England in Africa a few years since. Missionaries were eager to tell of their labors and successes, but these High Churchmen said, "Brothers, we hear that you have received at your Communion Table missionaries who do not belong to our sect."

Sensitive Drum-Shaped Pick-Up That Has Great Possibilities

Talkies and radio may have a new larynx in a drum-shaped pick-up of gold leaf only one-millionth of an inch thick. Details of its development were made public at Purdue University, Indiana.

This membrane, 50 to 100 atomic diameters in thickness, is stretched taut like a drum head over a steel ring larger in diameter than a silver United States dollar.

Dr. Karl Laue-Hirovitz, head of the physics department, said that the big pick-up reproduces the low frequencies, that is, the deep tones, almost without distortion. It can be used both for pick-up of sound and for loud speaking.

Soviets To Build Autos

Construction of a giant Soviet automobile plant at Nizhni Novgorod has been completed, it is announced, and the plant is expected to start production next January. Equipped with the most modern foreign machinery, it consists of 52 shops covering more than 1,000,000 square feet, and an estimated output of 140,000 automobiles a year.

A number of the shops have already started operation.

Canada Well Governed

With Ten Million Population Has 199 More Members Than Britain

In the British House there are 615 members, and the strange thing is that in the House itself there is but seating accommodation for slightly more than 400. Britain has the one central government; there is nothing which compares to our provincial system of rule, and although 615 appears to be a fairly formidable number of parliamentarians it is not so great as the number which we have in Canada.

Counting the Federal and Provincial bodies in Canada we find this result:

Ottawa	245
Alberta	63
British Columbia	48
Manitoba	55
New Brunswick	45
Nova Scotia	47
Ontario	112
Prince Edward Island	30
Quebec	109
Saskatchewan	63
Total	614

So Canada with its ten million population has 199 more governing members than Britain with its population of 47,000,000.

How To Forecast Weather

Missouri Prophet Says It Always Runs In Cycles

Buffalo's mystery man baseball prophet has a rival at Mackinac, Missouri, in a farmer, unknown to fame, who says this business of weather forecasting is a simple matter if you keep tab of the first ten days of each three-month cycle.

He submitted his scheme, with a challenge, to W. C. Brown, chief of the weather bureau there. He suggested that Brown junk his rain gauges and barometers and adopt his system.

Weather during the first ten days of each three months cycle indicates what will happen during those months, he contends. His cycles begin in January, April, July and October.

THE HOUSE OF DREAMS-COME-TRUE

— BY —
MARGARET FEELEY

"The Splendid Policy," "The Herald

Madam & Sonnet, Ltd., London.

"Thank God!" she heard him mutter. Then, aloud, reassuringly: "I've got my end of it all right. Now, can you catch hold of the strap and raise yourself a little so that I can reach you?"

Jean obeyed. A minute later she felt his arms about her shoulders, underneath her armpits, and then very slowly, but with a sure strength that took from her all sense of fear, he drew her safely up beside him on to the high ground.

For a moment they both rested quietly, recovering their breath. The Englishman seemed glad of the respite, and Jean noticed with concern the rather drawn look of his face. She thought he must be more played out than he cared to acknowledge.

Across the silence of their fatigue their eyes met—Jean's filled with a wistful solicitude as unconscious and candid as a child's, the man's curiously brilliant and inscrutable—and in a moment the silence had become something other, different, charged with emotional significance, the revealing silence which falls suddenly between a man and woman.

At last:
"This is what comes of stealing a day from Mrs. Grundy," commented the man dryly.

And the tension was broken.

He sprang up, as though anxious to maintain the recovered atmosphere of the commonplace.

"Come! Having shot her bolt and tried ineffectually to down you in ditch, I expect the old lady will let us get home safely now. We're through the worst. There are no more drags between here and the hotel."

It was true. Anything that might have split danger was past, and it only remained to follow the beaten track up to the hotel, though even so, with the wind and snow driving in their faces, it took them a good half-hour to accomplish the task.

Monseigneur and Madame de Varigny, a distracted "maître d'hôtel," and a little crowd of interested and sympathetic visitors welcomed their arrival.

"Mon dieu, mademoiselle! But we rejoice to see you back!" exclaimed Madame de Varigny. "We ourselves are only newly returned—and that, with difficulty, through this terrible storm—and we arrive to find that none knows where you are!"

"Me, I made sure that mademoiselle had accompanied Madame la Comtesse," asserted Monsieur Vautrin, nervously anxious to exculpate himself from any charge of carelessness.

"We were just going to organize a search-party," added the little Count. "I, myself—stupidly—should have joined in the search."

Wary as she was, Jean could hardly refrain from smiling at the idea of the diminutive Count in the role of gallant rescuer. He would have been considerably less well-qualified even than herself to cope with the drifting snow through which the sheer, dogged strength of the Englishman had brought her safely.

Instinctively she turned with the intention of effecting an introduction between the latter and the Varignys, only to find that he had disappeared. He had taken the opportunity presented by the little ferment of excitement which had greeted her safe return to slip away.

She felt oddly disappointed. And yet, she reflected, it was so like him—so like the conception of him which she had formed, at least—to evade both her thanks and the enthusiasm with which a recital of the afternoon's adventure would have been received.

CHAPTER VI. The Magic Moment

Jean, surprisingly revived by a hot bath and a hot drink, and comfortably tucked up beside the fire in her room, was recounting the day's adventure to Madame de Varigny.

It was a somewhat expurgated version of the affair that she outlined—thoroughly calculated to allay the apprehensions of a temporary chaperon in which the unknown Englishman figured innocuously as merely having come to her assistance when, in the course of her afternoon's tramp, she had been overtaken by the blizzard. Of the stolen day, snatched from under Mrs. Grundy's enquiring nose, Jean preserved a discreet silence.

"I don't know who he could be," she pursued. "I've never seen him on the ice before. I should certainly have recognized him if I had. He was a lean, brown man, very English-looking—that sort of cold-but-every-morning effect, you know. Oh! And he had one perfectly white lock of hair that was distinctly attractive. It looked—descriptively—'as though someone had dabbed a powdered finger on his hair—just in the right place.'"

Madame de Varigny's eyes narrowed, and a quick ejaculation escaped her. It was something more than a mere exclamation commencing interest; it held a definitely individual note, as though it sprang from some sudden access of personal feeling.

Jean, hearing it, looked up in some surprise, and the other, meeting her questioning glance, rushed hastily in to speech.

"A lock of white hair? But how chic! It should not—thoughtfully—be difficult to discover the identity of anyone with so distinctive a characteristic."

"He is not staying in the hotel, at all events," said Jean. "He told me he was at a friend's chateau."

"And he did not enlighten you as to his name? Gave you no hint?"

Madame de Varigny spoke with an assumption of indifference in her liquid voice.

Jean shook her head, smiling a little to herself. It had been part of the charm of the brief companionship that neither of the two comrades knew any of the everyday, commonplace details concerning the other.

"Perhaps you will see him again at the rink tomorrow," suggested Madame de Varigny, still with that note of restrained eagerness in her tones. "The snow is not deep except where it has drifted; they will clear the ice in the morning."

Jean was silent. She was not altogether sure that she wanted to see him again. As it stood, robbed of all commonplace circumstances of convention, the incident held a certain glamour of whimsical romance which could not but appeal to the daughter of Glyn Peterson. Nicely rounded off, as for instance, by the unknown Englishman's prosaically calling "at the hotel the next day to enquire whether, or she had suffered any ill effects, it would lose all the thrill of adventure."

It was the suggestion of incompleteness which, favored the entire episode so pleasantly.

No, on the whole, Jean rather hoped that she would not meet the Englishman again—at least, not yet. Some day, perhaps, it might be rather nice if chance brought them together once more. There would be a certain element of romantic fitness about it, should that happen.

"I don't think I am likely to see him again," she said quietly, replying to Madame de Varigny's suggestion. "He told me he was going away tomorrow."

Had it been conceivable, Jean would have said that a flash of disappointment crossed the Countess's face. But there seemed no possible reason for the movements of an unknown Englishman should cause her any excitement of feeling whatever, pleasant or otherwise. The only feasible explanation was that odd little streak of individualism concerning other people's affairs which appeared to be characteristic of her and which she had before evinced concerning the circumstances of Lady Anne Brennan.

Whatever curiosity she may have felt, however, on this occasion Madame de Varigny refrained from giving expression to it. Apparently dismissing the subject of the Englishman's identity from her mind, she switched the conversation into a fresh channel.

"It is unfortunate that you should have met with such a contretemps to-day. You will not feel disposed to dance this evening, after so much fatigue," she observed commiseratingly.

But Jean scouted the notion. With the incomparable resiliency of youth, she felt quite equal to dancing all night if needs be.

"Male tout au contraire!" she exclaimed. "I'm practically recovered—at least, I shall be after another half-hour's lazing by this glorious fire. I wonder what heaven-sent inspiration induced Monsieur Vautrin to install a real English fire-place in this room! It's delicious."

The Countess rose, shrugging her expressive shoulders.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

GRAPE JELLY ROLL

(4 eggs)

¾ cup special cake flour, sifted.
½ teaspoon baking powder.
¼ teaspoon salt.
4 eggs, unbeaten.
¾ cup sugar.
1 teaspoon vanilla.
Grape jelly.

Beat flour once; measure. Combine baking powder, salt, and eggs in bowl. Place over smaller bowl of hot water, and beat with rotary egg beater, adding sugar gradually, until mixture becomes thick and light-colored. Remove bowl from over hot water. Fold in flour and vanilla. Pour into pan, 12½ x 8½ inches, lined with greased paper. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees Fahrenheit) 13 minutes. Turn from pan at once onto cloth covered with powdered sugar. Remove paper. Quickly cut off crisp edges of cake. Spread with jelly and roll. Wrap in cloth until cool.

CRANBERRY DESSERT

1 juninet tablet.
1 tablespoon cold water.
1 cup cranberry jelly or marmalade.
1 pint milk.
1 tablespoon sugar.
½ teaspoon vanilla.

Prepare the juninet according to directions on package. Pour at once into individual dessert glasses and let stand undisturbed in a warm room until firm—about 30 minutes—Then chill. When ready to serve add cranberry jelly or marmalade to each dish. A topping of sweetened whipped cream may be put over the cranberries if desired.

Economic Conference Likely

Governments Would No Doubt Accept Invitation For Next Year

The London Times says that when Prime Minister R. B. Bennett of Canada formally renews his invitation to hold the adjourned meeting of the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa next year, the National Government will certainly accept it. The suggestion is made, the Times added, that the meeting should not be held too early in the year, in order that all the governments of the Empire might have ample time to make their preparations.

Stormy Political Life

Ramsay MacDonald Has Had a Career Reading Like Fiction

Ramsay MacDonald was elected in his own constituency, because the Prime Minister's "Ain folk" stood by him in the stormiest hour of his stormy political career.

Born in a fisherman's cottage in Scotland, 64 years ago, Ramsay MacDonald has had a career reading like fiction. Friends, he went to London and for 10 years drank the bitter waters of poverty, following a literary life. The death of his wife in 1911 was the saddest blow of his life.

Entering Parliament in 1906, Ramsay MacDonald became chairman of the Independent Labor Party. This was in the days when such a step was tantamount to seceding, if not political exclusion. When the war opened he assailed the Government for having blundered into the conflict. Bringing peace by negotiation, and despite his support for recruiting, MacDonald became an out-as-out pacifist and was shunned by all lines of war thought. He lost his seat in the Commons in 1918.

The turn of the political wheel brought MacDonald back to Parliament after the close of the war as head of the growing Labor Party. His pacifism was forgotten, if not forgiven. The wheel took another turn and Ramsay MacDonald became Premier in January, 1924. After ten months of office, came opposition, until June, 1929, when he formed another government.

This lasted until last August, when MacDonald, Philip Snowden, James Thomas and ten other Laborites joined the Conservatives and a portion of the Liberal Party in forming the National Government. The people of Seaboard placed their stamp of approval on the latest, if not the most sensational step ever taken by Ramsay MacDonald.

The Value Of Laughter

Great Aid To Health and Longevity Says New York Pastor

Instead of telling us the mode of living, not usually applied with success to any other individual, by which he has attained to the age of 96 years, Dr. George Alexander, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of New York, says that when one is old he should "eat half as much, sleep twice as much, drink three times as much water and laugh four times as much."

This forward-looking wisdom, particularly happy, when it comes from the past the allotted three-score and ten, is supremely leavened by the last admonition. Much has been written of laughter. Some hold that it is the mark of the ill-mannered fool. Some count laughter the desperate alternative of tears. Yet others agree with Carlyle, though he often was, when he says in Sartor Resartus that "The man who cannot laugh is not only apt for treasons, stratagems and spoils, but his whole life is already a treason and a stratagem." One should begin early in the journey to laugh, lest in his old age, even with laughter multiplied by four, he lacks a good proportion of mirth.

Try Madame Lacroix's recipe for *HOT CHEESE BISCUITS

1½ cups flour
4 teaspoons Magic Baking Powder
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup milk
¾ cup grated cheese
1 teaspoon salt

Sift flour, baking powder and salt. With two knives, thoroughly mix flour, butter and cheese. Dilute the mixture with milk to make a soft dough. Roll quickly and lightly to one-half inch thickness and cut with a round biscuit cutter. Place on top of each biscuit a cheese cube, one-half inch thick, and bake in oven at 400° F. about 12 or 15 minutes.

Her Heart Was So Bad Couldn't Do Housework

Mrs. S. Dragoman, R.R. 2, Midland, Ont. writes:—"I had been troubled with heart trouble for many years."

My heart would beat so fast I could hardly breathe, and I had headache and dizzy and fainting spells.

I couldn't get my housework done I was so weak. I took three boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and felt much better, and now I would not be without them in the house."

WORLD DISARMAMENT PETITIONS TO BE RETURNED NOVEMBER 20th

As the time set for the League of Nations Disarmament conference approaches, interest in the possible outcome of the conference deepens. In a measure the outcome is in the hands of the peoples of the countries which will be represented at Geneva in February, 1932, for in practically all of these countries the polyglot petition for World Disarmament is being circulated. It has been translated into twenty languages and dialects including Esperanto so that it may be used in many lands.

During the summer it was estimated that two million signatures had been obtained. This fall, meetings in support of the conference are being arranged in many parts of the world and thousands will be added to this number it is expected.

In Alberta the petition was circulated first by the Women's International League and later by the W.M.S. of the United Church and the League of Nations Society. Copies may be obtained by application to the Edmonton Branch Women's International League, Box 432, Edmonton. These forms have been circulated through many organizations including the U.F.A., the U.F.W.A., Women's Institutes, at the Teachers' and Trustees' conventions, as well as in many of the churches.

All forms should be returned by the twentieth of November. The return address is printed on each copy. The bulk of the Alberta forms will be sent away at this time but should any be received later, every effort will be made to have them reach headquarters in time for forwarding to Geneva.

Colonel C. P. Meredith, general secretary of the League of Nations Society in Canada, in his report on the Disarmament Campaign which appeared in "Interdependence" lately, says: "Five hundred thousand Canadians signed for service in the World War. Five hundred thousand Canadians must sign the declaration for World Disarmament."

PETROLEUM CONTENT TESTS ALBERTA COAL COMPLETELY

Extensive tests of Alberta coal, to ascertain the possibility of obtaining petroleum from the product, have just been completed by Dr. E. H. Boomer, of the University of Alberta. His reports have been submitted to the research council at Edmonton. Samples of the coal have been sent to Ottawa, to be examined for petroleum.

Huge deposits of coal in this province are said to have high volatile content, suitable for use in large scale petroleum production. Recovery of petroleum from low grades of Alberta coal by hydrogenation is possible, but the present low price of petroleum from the well precludes economical competition, announced Dr. Boomer. Tests in Europe have also shown that the cost of producing petroleum from coal was too high to compete with the petroleum from the well.

EXPRESS RATES MEET TRUCK COMPETITION

A further move in the determined attack which Canadian railways are carrying into the camps of motor trucking companies, went into effect on November 7th, with the establishment of a special rate on express shipments of fruit and vegetables between Winnipeg and Manitoba points. The new tariff compares with motor trucking rates and, in addition, provides for pick-up and delivery with usual rapid express service.

The Scotts are on the balcony and can hear what a young couple are saying in the garden below. "I think he wants to propose," said Mrs. Scott; "we ought not to listen; who's to tell him?" "Why should I?" returned Mr. Scott. "Nobody whistled to warn me."

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bartlett at New Westminster, B.C., on October 30th. Mrs. Bartlett was formerly Miss Dorothy Corrie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Corrie, of Cranbrook, formerly of Fernie.

Quite a number from this section attend the Masonic district meeting at Cowley on Thursday evening last, at which M.W. Bro. R. W. H. Pinkney, of Blairmore, was presented with a past district deputy grand master's jewel, and M.W. Bro. Frank J. Smith, of Hillcrest, was chosen to succeed R. W. Bro. Archie Smart as district deputy grand master.

The meeting was attended and addressed by Dr. G. W. Kesby, grand master, of Calgary. Following announcement from Montreal of C.P.R. passenger train schedules, effective November 22, by which more than 2,000,000 passenger train miles are cut off in an economy effort, local railwaymen are of the opinion that the large reductions which were rumored as possible of Southern Alberta lines will not materialize. At one time it appeared likely that No. 3 and No. 4 on the main line might be dropped, which would result in a drastic change in the times of No. 11 and No. 12 from Medicine Hat to Vancouver through Lethbridge and the Crow's Nest. These main line trains are not being dropped, however, and the night through service on the Crow will therefore remain.

"Ki-Ki!" which comes to Cole's theatre, Bellevue, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, was an international stage success. As a dialogue vehicle for Miss Pickford, it has been given an elaborate presentation by the Joseph M. Schenck organization. The cast was chosen carefully from the ranks of the premier players of screen and stage with Reginald Denny in the masculine lead.

Certain chances calculated to fit the star's individual personality were made in the story. The title role played by Miss Pickford is that of the street gamine who aspires to be an actress and a "great lady." A section of a city, complete with buildings and streets, was duplicated by art directors and artisans on the huge acreage at United Artists' studios in Hollywood for the Sam Taylor production.

Stavelly. Mr. Guy was with the party, other members including Tom Martin, A. V. Lang and Tom Burnett. It is quite a number of years since Mr. Guy last visited The Pass district.

The "Nordegg correspondent to the Red Deer Advocate comments: "Through the efforts of J. H. Shanks, manager of the Brazeau Collieries, employees have been placing condensers on a lot of the electrical equipment in town, that has been causing radio listeners lots of trouble, and there is no doubt that radio reception should be better from now on, although with all the new machines coming into town, there is apt to be more whistling on stations on account of the new machines being super-heterodyne circuits. Perhaps some similar action would be advisable in Blairmore."

At a meeting of the Canadian Labor Defense League in Saskatoon recently, Sam Scarlett, member of that organization out on bail on charges arising from the Estevan mine trouble, asserted that James Sloan, of Lethbridge, president of the Canadian Miners' Union, and Joseph Forkin, sought by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in connection with the rioting, would surrender themselves to the authorities as soon as someone offers $5,000 bail for each man to retain his liberty until his trial in March. Sloan, Scarlett and Forkin disappeared immediately following the trouble, but Scarlett was located shortly after, hiding in a farm house. Surely, it should be an easy matter in this day and generation to expect this amount of sympathy for such a coward.

BUILDING

I'm just a builder, lowly am I; Building bright castles in Spain on high; Mixing and moulding, blending with care, Love, hope, and patience, of each equal share.

Borrowing humbly from the sky. A fleecy white cloudlet drifting by; Crystalline portions of mosaic lakes, Mirror-like pines, my dream window makes.

For a decorative arch, Cupid lends his own bow, The open doors gracing, where Love and Joy flow; Here and there flitting, a thrill with new life. Away from the world, the woe and the strife.

Posies a'noddin', perfuming the air, Gay painted lily, shy tulip and fair; Ferns in the glade of the woodland trees, Pine-tops majestic wave in the breeze. Spry little rivulets scurry at my feet, Chattering, whispering, crooning sweet; Here I dream o' my castle in Spain, For I'm just a builder, building again.—Sylvia Crosby

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Cruickshank motored to Calgary on Monday.

W. H. Moser started orchestra practice in the school on Wednesday night.

Percy Woodford, who for many years managed P. Burns' store at Hillcrest, was found shot to death on the Ogden trail, outside Calgary. No reason is given as to how he came by his death. His car stood beside the trail a short distance away and a gun was found beside the body.

The many friends of Rev. John Wood will regret to learn of his serious illness.

Cyril Richards, who is at present attending normal school at Calgary, was elected secretary of the normal hockey club.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Of the several local parties who went deer hunting during the past week, Lawrence Robertson, Leslie Day and Stanley Snyder were successful in bagging one each.

At a whist drive, sponsored by the ladies of the Anglican church and held at the home of Louis Kaye on Wednesday evening, a net sum was realized. Mrs. Christie won the ladies' prize and Harry Rogers the gent's.

Mrs. Cowin has returned from a visit to Vauxhall.

Mrs. Morrison is spending a few days with relatives in Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm McMillan, accompanied by Mrs. Archie Swart, paid a visit to Lethbridge the latter part of the week.

A foot of wet clinging snow fell over the district the early part of the week, which is melting and going into the soil. This added bit of moisture is very welcome.

Mr. Rodier, of the Royal Bank staff, Bassano, is at present visiting Cowley.

The children of the village have recently sold several dollars' worth of poppies, in aid of the disabled veterans.

The Ladies Aid of the United church cleared the handsome sum of one hundred dollars at the recent banquet served for the Masonic gathering.

The annual meeting of the Masonic District 8, comprising lodges at Cardston, Macleod, Pincher Creek, Cowley, Hillcrest, Blainmore and Coleman, was held here on Thursday last, November the 5th. Upwards of one hundred prominent Masons, including Grand Master G. W. Kerby and Grand Secretary John Kemmis, of Calgary; also Past Grand Masters Robert Patterson, of Macleod, G. E. Cruickshank, M.L.A., of Hillcrest, and Canon Middleton, of Cardston, attended the afternoon session, under the chairmanship of A. G. M. Swart, district deputy grand master, of Cowley. Promptly at 6:30 p.m., the meeting adjourned to the I.O.O.F. hall, where a splendid banquet was in readiness, prepared and served by the ladies of the United church. Upwards of one hundred and fifty rendered full justice to the good things provided. Grand Master Kerby, after complimenting the ladies on their work in providing the banquet, delivered a masterful speech, which was highly appreciated, both for wit and rhetoric. Canon Middleton also delivered an able speech on the ancient history of the order. Toastmaster Swart had also arranged several musical numbers, which helped to round out an evening of entertainment which will be long remembered. The gathering broke up at 10:30 to the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

LIFE UNDER THE SEA

Man has often wondered what things were like down under the sea. Just what secrets did "Davy Jones' Locker" hold. In order to explore these unknown depths, Dr. William Beebe, undersea explorer and naturalist, and a companion, had themselves lowered into the ocean off the coast of Bermuda last summer in Dr. Beebe's new diving ball or bell, which is six feet in diameter and weighs two tons. Sealed in the steel ball the two men were supplied with air by oxygen tanks, and chemicals absorbed the carbon dioxide. They went down for a world's diving record of 1,226 feet. Through heavy quartz glass portholes, capable of withstanding a pressure of nine tons, they observed many strange creatures that inhabit the "deep black sea depths." "Even in the darkest night," says Dr. Beebe, "there is some light, but 800 feet under the surface of the sea every color of the spectrum is squeezed out, and the only light is that of luminous fish, who thus attract their prey." With the aid of an electric light that pierced the darkness he was able to see many fish never before observed in their native waters. Among these were fish with lights running the length of their sides, fish with both head and tail lights, fish that swim upright upon their tails, and others that could swallow prey three times their size.

Jim Patterson: "Your car is at the door."
Walter Tiberg: "Yes, I hear it knocking."

Blainmore's Butcher: "Excuse me, madam, but you haven't paid us for the turkey you had at Thanksgiving."
Customer: "No. My husband sprained his wrist so badly carving it that he hasn't been able to write out your cheque yet."

ANNUAL MEETING OF BLAIRMORE ARENA LTD.

The annual meeting of the Blainmore Arena Company, Limited, was held in the Elks' office on Friday night, when a very encouraging report of last season's operation was submitted by secretary Robert Gray.

The name of W. J. Bartlett was added to the board of directors, succeeding S. Knapman; and J. E. Gillis and A. R. Granger were re-elected. P. C. Montalbetti was again chosen auditor. Other officers elected were: L. L. Morgan, president (re-elected); J. E. Gillis, vice-president (re-elected); R. Gray, secretary-manager (re-elected). James Ringland was again chosen ice man.

In recognition of services rendered during the season 1930-31, a substantial honorarium was granted the secretary-manager.

The Curling Club fee for 1931-32 was set at $500.00.

In response to claims made that during the past season much annoyance was caused through rough tactics of certain individuals during skating, the manager was instructed to establish a code of regulations and see that they were strictly carried out, even to the extent of prohibiting parties found guilty of misconduct from using skating privileges or being allowed on the premises.

Season tickets will sell this year for: family, $10.00; gent's, $5.00; ladies $3.00; high school pupils, $3.00; children, $1.50.

CANADA'S TRADE SHIP SAILS FOR AUSTRALIA

Rabbits, raccoons, bear cubs and an assortment of birds were among the last minute arrivals for the Canadian National steamer "Canadian Constructor," Canada's Trade Ship, which recently sailed from Montreal bound for Australia. These furred and feathered ambassadors of good-will are en route from the Toronto zoo to the zoos of Adelaide and Melbourne.

The hold of the Canadian Constructor contains varied shipments of Canadian produce and manufactured articles which will be received in the Antipodes for the edification of the millions of Australians who are already sympathetic toward Canadian products, more so because of the recent Australia-Canada Trade agreement.

BUFFALO PLACED IN NEW NATIONAL PARK

Returning to the plains of Manitoba, where the thundering hoofs of their proud forebears once pounded beneath the surbe of mighty bodies, 21 buffalo were shipped over Canadian National railways from the government park at Wainwright, Alberta, to be placed in Riding Mountain National Park. The buffalo will be confined in the new National Park as the foundation of an exhibition herd which is being established by the Federal Department of the Interior.

REGISTERED NURSES POSTPONE CONVENTION

That every nurse may have the opportunity to study the report of the Weir Survey on Nursing Education in Canada, which is now published and which will be the basis for discussion at the next A.A.R.N. Convention, it is considered advisable by the council of the association to postpone the convention until the spring of 1932.

Announcement will be made later as to where this report may be obtained. Nurses are advised to obtain a copy and familiarize themselves with the contents.

A LITTLE POEM

A little laughter, as a while we tarry
Upon this weary road we've christened
"life";
A little ache, as friends go passing
onwards
Leaving behind this world of pain and strife.
A little thoughtfulness, a little wisdom,
A little gentle pressure of the hand.
A tender word sometimes will ease a burden—
Will often help more than we understand.
A little aid, when things are getting muddled—
A helping hand to some one sorely driven;
A word or two by someone gently spoken,
Oft brings to us a little glimpse of heaven.

The Hudson Bay Route

The recent successful voyage of the steamer "Farnworth" from Churchill to London, England, loaded with the first cargo of wheat from Western Canada's own export, and which voyage was made in the short space of sixteen days, marks an epoch in Canada's maritime history.

It is true that vessels have passed in and out of Hudson Bay every year for more than a century; it is even true that two rival navies entered the Bay, fought a battle there, and sailed out again. It is also true that the success attending the voyage of the "Farnworth," and its sister ship, "Warkworth," was an outcome fully expected by Western people. The importance of this venture lies in the fact that it provided the final demonstration to Eastern Canada and the world that the West's belief in the feasibility of the Bay route, and its demands, extending for fifty years back, for the construction of the railway to the Bay were fully justified.

It has been proven that the Bay route can be made a commercial success; that the 1,000 mile shorter route from the heart of the grain growing prairies to the centre of the Empire is a practical route. But the fast, safe trips of the "Farnworth" and "Warkworth," through what had for years been regarded as the "frozen North," are not in themselves sufficient guarantee that the new route will become the important factor it should be in the economic history of Western Canada.

The Hudson miles shorter than any other route; it is feasible; it is practical; it can be made a success. But, in order to be a complete success and to provide an adequate return to the people of Canada for the $50,000,000, more or less, expended on the railway, the port terminals, and for navigation aids through the straits, other things are essential. Unfortunately, some of these matters are tangled up in the controversies of rival policies of political parties. With these rivalries this column has no concern, but, speaking for the West, it must be said without any qualification that they cannot, must not be allowed to hamper the success of the Bay route.

Among the things now essential to the success of that route are:

(1) The lowest possible rates of freight on both outgoing and incoming shipments over the Hudson Bay railway, and this means the application in all its detail of the Crown's Nest Pass schedules to the Hudson Bay railway.

(2) The lowest possible rates of insurance on both vessels and cargoes utilizing the Bay route, and, in this connection, absorption by the Federal Government of any excess in such rates charged over and above those obtaining on other routes until experience demonstrates what the proper rates should be.

(3) The removal of any existing obstacles to the freest possible passage and entry of merchandise and products of all kinds from the more easterly sections of Canada and the markets of Europe into Western Canada by means of the Bay route and the port of Churchill, such removal of existing obstacles to be accompanied by every reasonable encouragement of such traffic. This is essential because no railway and no ocean-going vessel can quote low rates if it can depend on only a one-way traffic.

(4) Finally, it is important that certain branch lines of railway be built in the West which will have the effect of connecting up existing lines in the shortest and most direct way possible with the Hudson Bay railways. This can be done in the majority of cases with comparatively short cut-offs. Some people advocate making Churchill not only a national port, but a free port. That may or may not be feasible. Such a decision would have an effect on the whole fiscal and economic systems of the Dominion, although unquestionably it would give a great boost to the Bay route and make its success assured.

The point of this article, however, is just this: The Hudson Bay route, can, we believe, be made to realize the dreams of western people; it can be made a financial success as well as a great economic and commercial enterprise. The opportunity and the responsibility now rests with the people of the West, irrespective of class or party, to work together in union to achieve that result. Freight rates must be the lowest possible; insurance rates likewise; necessary railway branch cut-offs must be built; obstacles, if any, to movement of traffic removed; full encouragement for use of the route provided. All political parties have had a hand in the building of the railway and the opening of the route; all have a common interest in its success. So, regardless of party, all Westerners should work together to make that success an assured fact.

Upset Telegraph Service

East African Natives Use Wires For Personal Adornment

Telegraph wire, in varying lengths, attached here and there to otherwise scanty clothing, means chic to the natives of Tanganyika and Kenya, South Africa, and as a result the cable was without wire service to the coast for more than 24 hours.

The demand for wire for sartorial purposes exceeded the available non-commercial supply, so the natives cut telegraph lines about 24 miles from Mombasa and took what they wanted. Cable messages had to be sent to Mombasa, and thence by train, until the damage was repaired. The delay was 16 hours.

Big Blueberry Crop

Shipment of Blueberries From Kenora This Year Totalled 255,000 Pounds

One Kenora industry showed a remarkable increase this year, as compared with 1930. Blueberries shipped from Kenora this year amounted to approximately 255,000 pounds, or some 15,300 baskets. While the prices this year were lower than last year, yet the increase was even more marked, in the fact that there was always a market this season for the berries, a fact that is not always experienced in other years.

The 1930 blueberry crop was 145,000 pounds, or some 8,700 baskets, while this year the shipments totalled 255,000 pounds, or some 15,300 baskets. While the prices this year were lower than last year, yet the increase was even more marked, in the fact that there was always a market this season for the berries, a fact that is not always experienced in other years.

Life Insurance in Canada

Per Capita Record Surpassed Only By United States

A statement issued by the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau shows that in the first nine months of the present year a total of $367,223,000 of raw paid-for ordinary life insurance was sold in Canada and Newfoundland.

This hardly indicates that Canada is broke. What it does indicate is that if Mr. Bennett were required to float an internal loan he ought to have no difficulty in raising an amount up to $200,000,000.

Incidentally, speaking of life insurance, the total of life insurance in force in Canada at the present time is $6,500,000,000, or $650 for every man, woman and child in the Dominion. It is a per capita record surpassed by only one country in the world, the United States.—Ottawa Journal.

NEIGHBORS TALK

"I am employed in a theatre and it is a problem to make ends meet, and help support my mother and sisters. I like to dress well but haven't very much to spend on clothes. To give the appearance of being a gentleman I have decided to change the colour of a dress or stockings as soon as the things become faded. I have always gotten perfect results that our neighbors talk about the great number of new clothes I have had. I learned about Diamond Dyes from our wardrobe mistress. She says she has tried all the ways on the market but none do such splendid work and are so easy to use as Diamond Dyes. I understand they are the world's most popular dyes—and they deserve to be."

Auditorium For Winnipeg

Federal Government Will Share In Cost Of Construction

Approval by the special sub-committee of cabinet on unemployment relief of $1,250,000 additional expenditure for the Province of Manitoba, including the Federal Government's share in the cost of construction of a large auditorium in the City of Winnipeg, was announced by Hon. G. D. Robertson, Minister of Labor, and chairman of the sub-committee.

Federal Government commitments for the Province of Manitoba are now upward of $2,250,000, as compared with $900,000, which was the Federal allotment for Manitoba last year in addition to the necessary direct relief on an equal three-way basis between the cities, province and Dominion.

When
makes HIM FUSSY

One of the most important things you can do to make a teething baby comfortable is to see that little bowels do their work of carrying off waste matter promptly and regularly. For this nothing is better than Castoria, a pure vegetable preparation specially made for babies and children. Castoria acts so gently you can give it to young infants to relieve colic. Yet it is always effective for older children, too. Remember, Castoria contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics, is absolutely harmless. When your baby is fretful with teething or a foot up, give a cleansing dose of Castoria. Be sure you get genuine Castoria with the name: Cast-Holter.

CASTORIA
CHILDREN CRY FOR IT

TOO FAT AT 22

Lost 19 lbs.—And Backache

"I am 22 years of age, and I weighed 163 lbs. I had pains in the back and head, I didn't sleep at night. When my friend told me to try Kruschen Salts, I would not at first—I was sick of taking stuff. But since I tried Kruschen Salts, six months ago, I have lost 19 lbs., and feel a different woman, so I am very thankful to Mrs. — who recommended Kruschen Salts."

The condition which caused this woman to put on weight was also the cause of her backache and headaches. The whole trouble was due to the internal organs failing to expel from the body, regularly and completely, the waste products of digestion.

The six salts of Kruschen assist the internal organs in performing their functions properly—to throw off each day the waste and poisons that encumber the system. Then, little by little, that ugly fat goes—slowly, yes—but surely. The backache and headaches disappear. You feel wonderfully healthy, youthful and energetic—more so than ever before in your life.

Russia and Germany

Soviets Have Good Reason For Not Stirring Up Revolution

For once the Soviet Government of Russia has been reluctant to play with fire in a powder house. On every occasion when Russia's neighbor, Germany, passed through a difficult financial situation, Russian agents were busy in Hamburg, Dresden, Berlin, and other cities, attempting to stir up revolution. In the present case Russia has apparently kept its hands off, and one of the dispatches from Moscow suggests the reason.

Russia's chief interest today is the five-year plan. If this plan is to succeed, Russia must build up an export trade. One of the best markets for Russian exports is Germany. Revolution in Germany might endanger the five-year plan by depriving Russia of an indispensable outlet for the raw materials which she must sell abroad, in order to build up credit with which to purchase machinery and tools.

If the Soviet's policy toward Germany is any guide, the world has less to fear from Russia, seeking prosperous markets for her wares, than from Russia, starving and empty handed.

Free Scholarship

C.P.R. Offering Scholarship At McGill To Apprentices and Other Employees

A free scholarship, covering either one year in arts and four in chemical, civil, mechanical or electrical engineering, for five years in architecture or McGill University, is offered by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, subject to competitive examination, to its apprentices and other employees of less than 21 years of age, and to the minor sons of employees according to a bulletin issued by Grant Hall, vice-president of the company.

Candidates will qualify by writing either the high school leaving examination or the Forces of Quebec, or the McGill matriculation examination, at the university, or elsewhere in Canada, in June, 1932. The candidate receiving the highest average in subjects required for admission will be awarded the scholarship, with choice of any of the courses mentioned. The scholarship is renewable from year to year, provided its holder is entitled to full standing in his next year.

Must Ensure Safety First

Greater Need Of Present Time Than More Speed

"With the super-highways and the marginal roads that are being built around cities, normal speeds of 65 to 70 miles per hour or more will without doubt be possible." Such is the prediction made recently by an automotive engineer. Automobiles are killing more than 30,000 persons annually in the United States. Nearly half of the victims are pedestrians. More than 900,000 persons were injured in automobile accidents last year. About one-third of them were pedestrians. An automobile creeping slowly along does not crash into trees and fences as a rule. An automobile creeping slowly along does not knock down pedestrians as a rule. The need of the present is not more speed, but more safety. Any attempt to get more before we get more safety means not progress but madness.

Not Much Fun

Babe Ruth can't attend the movies, drive his car fast, indulge in rich foods or stay out late at night. The world little knows, as the New York Times observes, how dreary it is to be a baseball player drawing $80,000 a year.

British Postal Notes

Post Office Department Says British and Irish Free State Postal Orders No Longer To Be Cashed

Due to the depreciated British pound, orders have been issued by the post office department that British and Irish Free State postal notes are no longer to be cashed. The order does not apply to post office money orders.

The explanation given at Ottawa is that postal notes are settled with London on a different basis to money orders, and involve the risk of exchange fluctuations. In any circumstances, the Canadian post office authorities have been inclining to the view that circulation of British and Irish Free State postal notes should cease in Canada and the present chaotic exchange situation appears to bring the change of policy into effect.

These governments, however, on advice from Ottawa, have now ceased to issue postal notes for Canada, and will issue only money orders hereafter. The money order, it is stated, does not involve any exchange risk.

The British exchange situation also has had repercussions on the circulation in Canada of British bank notes. The pound and ten shilling notes, it is learned, are no longer being accepted by many of the Canadian banks.

Cancer Clinic

Saskatchewan Taking Advanced Steps In Control Of Disease

As a further step in the campaign of the Saskatchewan Cancer Commission, a government treatment clinic will shortly be established in Regina and Saskatoon. The commission has established a fund for the purchase of and use of radium for cancer and other malignant diseases. Definite date for the opening of the clinics has not been decided.

A supply of radium will be located at the clinics and will be housed in an specially constructed vault. Radio emanations will be secured from the University of Saskatchewan at Saskatoon. All those who think they have the disease will be examined free of charge if necessary.

New Growth Of Hair

Illinois Doctor Thinks He Has Discovered Cause Of Baldness

If your head looks more like a billiard ball than a hairdresser's advertisement, it may only be a sign that your anterior pituitary gland is off its feed.

The University of Illinois research and education hospital let it be known that it is continuing experiments started by Dr. B. Norman Bengtson of Maywood, Ill., on what causes baldness.

Dr. Bengtson accidentally discovered, one day, that a new growth of hair was growing on the head of a woman to whom he was giving glandular extracts in treatment of her tendency to overweight.

Dr. Bengtson considers that the anterior pituitary gland at the base of the brain regulates the growth of hair. One of his subjects, his records show, was a man of 58, bald for two years, who developed a complete head of gray hair which eventually turned black after several months' treatment.

Harmful Radio Activity

Theory Advanced That Fat Protects Cells Of Body From Intrude

Evidence that thin shafts of fat protect living cells of the body from harmful electrical activity has been discovered at Purdue University.

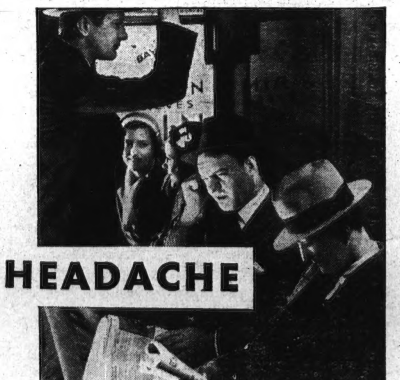

This electrical activity is ionization, radiation in which minute electrified particles spread about like atoms. The electrical dust is so widespread that possibly no particle of living matter is for long out of contact with it. It is caused by radio-activity and many other phenomena.

One difference between life and death appears in the reaction of cells to these stray ions. They permeate dead cells but the living possess some unexplained power of resistance. The ions do not get inside while life lasts.

NEW NATIONAL CABINET FORMED BY MACDONALD

London, Eng.—In his Lonsdale street Premier Ramsay MacDonald completed drafting his new National cabinet. A cabinet of 20 replaces the emergency cabinet of 10.

It is as follows:
Prime Minister and First Lord of the Treasury, Rt. Hon. Ramsay MacDonald, National-Laborite.

Lord President of the Council, Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Conservative.

Lord High Chancellor, Lord Sankey, National-Laborite.

Lord Privy Seal, Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden, National-Laborite.

Chancellor of the Exchequer, Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, Conservative.

Secretary of State for Home Affairs, Sir Herbert Samuel, Liberal.

Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, Sir John Simon, Liberal.

Secretary of State for the Dominions, Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, National-Laborite.

Secretary of State for the Colonies, Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, Conservative.

Secretary of State for War, Lord Hinchinbrooke, Conservative.

Secretary of State for India, Sir Samuel Hoare, Conservative.

Secretary of State for Scotland, Sir Archibald Sinclair, Liberal.

Secretary of State for Air, Lord Londonderry, Conservative.

First Lord of the Admiralty, Sir Bolton Eyres-Monsell, Conservative.

President of the Board of Trade, Rt. Hon. Walter Runciman, Liberal.

Minister of Health, Sir H. Hilton Young, Conservative.

President Board of Education, Sir Donald MacLean, Liberal.

Minister of Agriculture and Fisheries, Sir John Gilmour, Conservative.

Minister of Labor, Sir Henry Bertin, Conservative.

First Commissioner of Works, Rt. Hon. William Ormsby-Gore, Conservative.

The National cabinet of 10—functioning before the general elections—was formed after the collapse of the Labor administration. It consisted of four Labor members, four Conservatives and two Liberals. The new National Government, reflecting to a certain extent the sweeping changes which the general elections made in the complexion of the House of Commons, consists of 11 Conservatives, five Liberals (including Sir John Simon) and four National-Laborites.

The two key positions of Chancellor of the Exchequer and President of the Board of Trade go first to Neville Chamberlain, the second to Walter Runciman. The new chancellor, a protectionist, replaces Philip Snowden, a free trader, who becomes Lord Privy Seal in succession to Lord Peel.

At the opening of the Conservative campaign at Birmingham, Mr. Chamberlain, referring to the adverse balance of trade, said: "I think in Birmingham we shall all be united in feeling there is no policy we can seek that can be an effective substitute for the policy of protection, for our home industries and for the maintenance of our home standards."

The holder of the other key position regarding trade policies, Mr. Runciman, has been a life-long free trader although before the elections he declared his readiness to support an embargo against imported luxuries if he believed that step necessary to redress the balance of trade.

Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, who leaves the Board of Trade for the secretaryship of the colonies, also is a firm believer in protective tariffs.

Sir Hilton Young, who has been promoted from Parliamentary Under-Secretary for the Board of Trade to Minister of Health, argued during a campaign meeting at Carlisle that no general low-revenue tariff of 10 per cent. or so would serve to stabilize the pound. "It must be," he said, "on the basis of 33 per cent."

Harvester Company Resumes Operation

Plants Have Been Re-Opened in Canada and United States

Chicago, Ill.—Officials of the International Harvester Company announced that it has resumed active operation in all its Canadian and United States plants. Several hundred men are back at work at wages ranging from 10 to 20 per cent over the former rates.

Seniority rights, the officers said, will be observed in the re-employment and married men will be given preference. The new schedule in most plants increasing the work to four days will affect approximately 20 plants.

Statistics Indicate Present Year Healthy

Cumulative Death Rate Both in U.S. and Canada 9.1 Per 1,000

Toronto, Ont.—The year 1931 has been an exceptionally good health year, according to life insurance statistics, the cumulative death rate both in Canada and the United States being 9.1 per 1,000. This is approximately one per cent. in excess of that of 1930, when the minimum rate for all time was registered.

Mortality for heart disease is two per cent. higher than in 1930. Tuberculosis is establishing a new minimum mortality record for all time, registering only 77 per 100,000 for the ten months, a decrease of 5.9 per cent. in the period of one year. Diphtheria death rate has declined 34.6 per cent. this year, a new low record. On the other hand, the cumulative rate for diabetes is considerably higher. The rate for cancer has also increased five per cent.

Ninety feet high, showing a colossal group of figures in bronze, exemplifying the heroism and self-sacrifice of the Canadian people, the memorial, it is stated in reports from England, by the sculptors, the March Brothers and Sisters.

The memorial will stand in Confederation Park. Its erection will involve the removal of the city post office, the construction of a new railway postal terminal, and a new arrangement of uptown vehicular traffic.

Edmonton, Alberta.—The first woman to be appointed to such a post in the British Empire, Mrs. Emily Murphy, who has held office here for 15 years, has resigned as women's police magistrate for the City of Edmonton. She also vacates the post of judge of the juvenile court for this city.

While resigning as an active police magistrate for the city, Mrs. Murphy will continue to hold her appointment as a police magistrate and judge of the juvenile court for the province of Alberta.

Relief For Stricken Areas

103 Car Loads Of Fruit and Vegetables Contributed By Five Provinces

Toronto, Ont.—Five provinces have contributed a total of 103 car loads of fruit and vegetables to meet needs of people in the drought-stricken area of southern Saskatchewan and part of southern Alberta. The cars have been despatched under the auspices of the Emergency Relief Committee of the United Church of Canada.

The largest number—68 cars—have been sent from Ontario. Central Alberta has contributed 15 carloads, mostly of mixed vegetables to aid destitute people in the southern part of that province. Manitoba has sent five carloads of mixed vegetables, while from British Columbia 33 carloads of fruit have been shipped. Northern Saskatchewan has sent two carloads of grain products to the affected areas.

Each load is being distributed among 300 families, it is estimated.

Will Load Grain

Montreal—Seventy-four steamers are scheduled to load grain in Montreal before the close of navigation.

Some 40 of the total are regular passenger and freight liners that will sail with part-cargo grain. The balance being tramp steamers.

"RED" SECRETS ARE BARED BY POLICE OFFICER

Toronto, Ont.—For seven long years, a shabbily-dressed, stockily-built German-Canadian acted as secretary of the Regina, Sask., branch of the Communist Party of Canada. For those seven years he shared the innermost secrets of the "legal" and "illegal" branches of the party, sat at the council seat, attended conventions, talked and corresponded with the leaders.

But this time, he had changed the ragged hand-me-downs for the scarlet and blue of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. It was the first time in 10 years, his comrades said, that he had worn the proud uniform of Canada's famous force.

His name was Sergeant John Leopold, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

For seven years he had been secretary of the Regina branch of the Communist Party.

He had won the post through hard work.

While a member of the party he was known, not as Sergeant Leopold, but as E. W. Esselwein.

He had entered the Communist Party in search of evidence to prove that it was an unlawful association, and that members of the party were parties to a seditious conspiracy.

The Communist Party in Canada, he testified, was a section of the Communist International since its formation. It had been represented at all congresses of the international in Russia. From 1921 to 1924 it was known as "The Workers." But, he said, there were two parties. One was the workers, which was intended to be legal. The second was the "illegal" or underground party. The parties were known as "A" and "Z" parties respectively. "Z" was the latter party which "carried on the illegal work of Communist International."

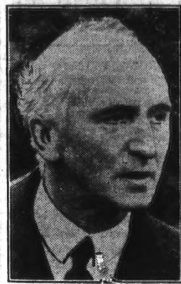

But in 1924, the "Z" party, at the direction of the executive committee of the Communist International, came into the other, the witness declared. Then the workers became known as the Communist Party in Canada, E.C.C.I., giving as the reason that while the "Z" party continued the work underground, it would not make that progress among the masses which was required "for the completion of its program."

Every member who joined the party, Leopold continued, took a definite pledge to subordinate himself to the decisions and directions of the Communist International at Moscow, and the Communist Party of Canada was controlled by the Moscow body. This was shown, he claimed, in the constitution of the Canadian party, and also in the constitution of the Comintern (Communist International).

He outlined the work of the nucleus—the "foundation of the party." This nucleus, he said, was composed of two or more members of the party in every mine, shop, store, lumber camp, shipyard, factory or other industrial concern, and operated secretly. The members of the nucleus were known to each other but not to the factory workers in general.

The main purpose of the party, he testified, was "to stir up discontent and strife; to foment and develop

BRITISH STATESMAN

Sir John Simon, who was unanimously elected leader of the National Liberal group in the House of Commons. Sir John Simon has been appointed Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs in the new National Cabinet.

Even the alleged code of the Communist party was outlined by the witness. When members of the "underground" party wished to "communicate," a certain page of a publication was chosen. Numbers indicated the line and letter which was to be indicated, "5-7," for instance, meant the fifth line and seventh letter was to be taken.

Among the mass of documentary evidence submitted were minutes of various conventions held in Canada and in Moscow. The names of several of the accused were prominent among those. Each was identified by Leopold as those sent to him while he was in Regina.

The party had been organized in Canada by Charles Scott, Louis Frauman and Sam Katayama. They had come from the Pan-American Bureau in the United States. Money had been furnished by the Communist International to the extent of $3,000, after which the organization was placed on a self-supporting basis.

In a report of a meeting at Moscow, Canada was under discussion at a session of the executive committee of the Communist International.

The party at that time had a membership of 4,180 in Canada, and one delegate was allowed to vote while two others were there in a consultative capacity, from the Dominion.

Response From Eastern Canada Is "Remarkable"

People Doing Everything Possible For Nedy On Prairies

Edmonton, Alberta.—Eastern Canadians are making a response to the need of straitened areas in the west that is nothing less than remarkable, and in every way immensely gratifying," states Rev. Dr. M. H. Wilson, superintendent of missions for the United Church in northern Alberta, who has returned from a meeting in Toronto of the home mission board.

Conditions in southern Saskatchewan, parts of northern Manitoba, and certain dried-out sections of southern Alberta have been put before the people of Ontario in paragraphs with the result that, besides many carloads of vegetables and fruit for points in Saskatchewan, some 50 tons of second-hand clothing have been contributed through United Church congregations and sent west for distribution in the three prairie provinces. This work is continuing.

In Alberta practically all the student missionary fields are closed for the winter. By way of meeting the particular needs of the coming winter, two United Church missionaries at-large have been sent into northern Saskatchewan to minister to the large number of settlers who have moved into that area from the south, and three men have been similarly assigned to work among relief camps in various parts of the country.

The department is inaugurating a new policy to encourage livestock production in those portions of the prairies where there is sufficient water to make cattle raising feasible. The department will furnish certified high class grass and clover seed sufficient for up to 25 acres on each farm to give farmers in each municipality. The farmers pay nothing for the seed but must be recommended as good farmers and must pay back an equal amount of seed in two years.

The seed returned must be free of weed seed and by this means it is expected an abundance of certified seeds will be available in a few years all over the west. This is considered an important step in encouraging livestock raising.

One of the great difficulties in connection with changing into mixed farming has been the cost of buying cattle. The scarcity of money has prevented many farmers this year from stocking their farms.

New Agreements Necessary

Before Ottawa Will Pay Pension Share Of Old Age Pensions

Ottawa, Ont.—Provincial governments have been notified by the Dominion that new agreements will be necessary before the federal treasury will proceed to pay 75 per cent. of the old age pensions instead of 50 per cent., which was the amount fixed under the old act. The new act was to start on July 31 and as it provides for payments each quarter, the first quarter is over and it is expected steps will be taken very soon to conclude the new agreements.

LLOYD GEORGE HAS RESIGNED AS LIBERAL LEADER

London, England.—Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, outstanding member of the Liberal Party for more than 25 years, resigned his chairmanship and announced he would not accept any other office.

He set forth his decision in a letter to Sir Herbert Samuel, which was made public just before a meeting of one session of the Liberal Parliamentary Party, at which Sir Herbert Weisman was elected to succeed the dynamic Welshman.

The Lloyd George letter and the election of Sir Herbert reflected the separation of the historic Liberal Party into three factions, two of which are reckoned among the supporters of the National Government.

These two are the Samuel Liberals and the group led by Sir John Simon, who was elected chairman of the "National Liberals." Mr. Lloyd George and three followers—all that remain loyal to him—are expected to take their seats in the opposition.

The Samuel Liberals were invited to attend the meeting but they did not—thus emphasizing the split between them and the Samuelites.

The little group faithful to the resigned leader includes his son, Major Gwilym Lloyd George, his daughter, Megan, and Major Goronwy Owen. It is assumed they will continue to call themselves Liberals.

The future is uncertain for the man who, as head of the war-time coalition government, was almost supreme arbiter of British destinies, and now rules over four votes in the House of Commons.

For the moment he seems very much in the shade. Few political commentators believe he will remain there permanently.

"As you are aware," Mr. Lloyd George wrote to Sir Herbert, "I am completely at variance with the disastrous course into which the party recently has been guided. It may therefore cause matters, and at any rate save embarrassment to my friends, if I write to tell you that I am not a candidate for election to any office in the group."

"For the moment these causes have been overwhelmed by the calamitous folly of October, and any attempt to revive them will be met for some time with impatience and ridicule."

"That phase will soon pass and all true progressives then can resume the task, out of which they were so regrettably manoeuvred."

WEST SHIFTING TO MIXED FARMING SAYS HON. WEIR

Ottawa, Ont.—The prairie farmers will continue their shift into mixed farming regardless of the upswing in wheat prices. This was the prediction of Hon. Robert-Weir, Dominion Minister of Agriculture. He did not expect any increase of wheat acreage in the west next year over this year, including the drought areas.

The present Mr. Weir considered, a most opportune time for farmers to go into livestock, as he said he was convinced cattle prices would go up very soon. He expressed the opinion that the number of beef cattle in Canada had been over-estimated and there was little or no surplus beyond the country's needs.

Work For Train Crews

Enlarged Movement Of Grain Increases Employment On Railways

Calgary, Alberta.—Both Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways east and west have had to increase their train and engine crews to cope with the enlarged movement of grain in the past few weeks, it was announced here. The movement was reported to be considerably heavier than during the corresponding period last year.

Calgary office of the Canadian Pacific Railway stated that eight more train and engine crews than were required at this time last year were employed in the last few days to handle the freight service out of Calgary. A corresponding increase was announced by the Canadian National Railways, which stated that the movement was much above this period in 1930. The movement of grain between Calgary and Edmonton was estimated to have doubled in the last week.

U.C.G. Has Good Year

Heavier Handling Of Grain And An Operating Profit

Calgary, Alberta.—Reports showing heavier handling of grain and an operating profit for the fiscal year ended July 31, 1931, were submitted to the annual meeting of the United Grain Growers Association.

Payment of a 5 per cent. dividend, amounting to $159,056.49, was made, and the surplus account was brought to a total of $803,387.95. Current assets were given as $3,131,967.19 against current liabilities of $1,714,487.83.

The 350 delegates heard R. S. Law, Winnipeg president, announce that the volume of business handled in the fiscal year had been considerably greater than in the previous year.

Special Fares For Christmas

Montreal.—Special Christmas and New Year fares at the rate of ordinary first class one-way fares and one-quarter for the round trip, with a minimum charge of 50 cents, will be placed in effect on Canadian railroads over the Christmas and New Year holidays, it has been announced by the Canadian Passenger Association.

Thinks Will Unjust

Norwalk, Conn.—Mrs. Marion Oser says she will not join her brother, William L. Oser, in contesting the will of her father, Thomas A. Oser. "I think the will is very, very unjust," Mrs. Oser said, "but I will not fight it. The fight probably would run for years, and I do not think I could stand it."

Drops Manager System

Cleveland, O.—Cleveland, largest city in the world to try the city manager form of government, has turned thumbs down on the plan and gone back to the old city system with a mayor and council elected by wards.

Twenty years ago, according to the Lethbridge Herald of last week, the first town council of Blaimore was elected on Wednesday of that week, with H. E. Lyon being elected as mayor with a majority of 11 over W. A. Beebe.

Prior to Remembrance Day, by which Armistice is now known, poppies were gratuitously distributed to the school children this year by Crows' Nest Chapter, I.O.D.E., and Blaimore branch of the Canadian Legion, I.E. S.L.

T. J. Thomas, charged with attempting to do bodily harm to W. A. Beebe and also wilfully breaking two windows at Beebe's residence, was sentenced to serve four months in the Lethbridge jail. Thomas was a recent applicant for deportation and was evidently making his appeal warranted.

The heading of an article in today's Calgary Albertan is somewhat misleading. There is no strike of pupils at the Blaimore school because of defects in a portion of the ventilating and heating system. The board is having the necessary changes in heat and ventilation system made and by the end of this week all will be in thorough working order.

An unusually large audience filled the United church to overcrowding on Sunday night, when a special Armistice remembrance service was held. Members of Blaimore Legion, B.E.S.L., and the I.O.D.E. were in attendance. Appropriate hymns were sung and an able discourse delivered by the pastor, Rev. J. W. Smith, B.D. Solos were rendered by Mrs. Davis, of Hillcrest, and Miss Lena Fraser, of the Upton string quartette assisted.

While it is perfectly in order to withhold from publication the names of juveniles connected with property destruction during Halloween, yet we feel it is only fair to society to know that the guilty parties have been called to order, and, in addition to nominal fines, have through themselves or their parents to jointly meet the cost of repairing or replacing the damage done. This should have a salutary effect upon the youths in future. There are opportunities galore for harmless pranks to be pulled on Halloween and the destruction of property simply has a tendency to create a feeling against the kiddies, who are usually well entertained by the public on this occasion.

A most enjoyable and successful smoker was held by the members of the local Legion, B.E.S.L., in their clubrooms on Tuesday night, in honor of Armistice. The programme consisted of speeches, vocal and instrumental selections, etc. A similar event took place in the clubroom of the Bellevue branch last night, at which Rev. Father Donovan was the chief speaker. Both events were very largely attended.

Mr. H. Mellor-Langdale, vocal teacher of Lethbridge, is in town this week end. Mr. Langdale is busy tutoring a twenty-three-voice choir of young people at the United church. These choristers had their first practice last night, under the leadership of Mr. Upton. It is expected that for the next practice the choir will be augmented to at least thirty voices, and will in all likelihood compete at the next Crows' Nest Pass Musical Festival.

The many local friends of Mr. E. Torgeson, chief of the district repair and trouble gang of the East Kootenay Power Co., will regret to learn of his sudden demise, which occurred in the Fernie hospital yesterday morning. Mr. Torgeson entered hospital about a week previous, undergoing an operation for appendicitis, from which he was recovering nicely, when pneumonia developed during Monday and Tuesday and the end came suddenly. He is survived by his wife and a twelve-year-old son, "Torgie," as he was popularly known by his workmates and friends, was exceedingly popular, being of the most genial disposition, and his passing will be keenly felt.
